

PRIVACY POLICY

Tech Works will never collect information without your expressed agreement and all information collected is completely voluntary. We will only collect this information (name, address, email address) which is needed to fulfill your needs when using our web sites and services. You have the right to refuse divulging information to Tech Works, but certain services may not be attainable if you do not provide the necessary information.

Notice of Changes to the Policy

Tech Works reserves the right to change this Policy at any time by notifying our registered users via e-mail of the changes or existence of a new Policy on the Tech Works website. All changes to the Policy will be effective when posted, and any continued use of our services will constitute your acceptance and you will be bound by the agreement.
